Next Meeting: George Scribner

Learn How to Make a Video of Your Artwork

Instead of an art demo this month, the very talented artist, George Scribner, will show you how to produce an artist's video.

George is currently a contractor at Walt Disney Imagineering as a concept artist and Animation Director. He has also been commissioned by the Republic of Panama to paint large-scale oil paintings of the upcoming Panama Canal Expansion.

Join George Scribner on February 8 and learn how you can produce your own video to help promote your artwork.

Wed., February 8, 7 pm

Quick Tip: Get a Fresh Eye On Your Work

We artists get intensely involved in the magic of creative work—sometimes so intensely involved that we can't see the forest for the trees. We have to find ways of getting a fresh look at what we are doing to deliver our best effort. Here are five ways I've found to get that fresh eye:

- Stand back some distance from your work at fairly regular intervals as you work.
- Use a mirror to peer over your shoulder at the reversed image of your work in progress.
- Ask a painting buddy to take a look and critique what you are doing.

(I sometimes take a phone photo shot of a work in progress and email to a fellow artist for his/her opinion)

- Check work on the computer to see how it looks in black and white or other formats, or to quickly try different solutions, electronically, to problems encountered on the canvas.
- Just put the work out of sight for a week or two. Find what works best for you to keep those creative juices flowing!

President's Message

At the January meeting we were treated to the dynamic brushwork of that wonderful oil painter, Tim Tien, as he painted a breathtaking still life. At our next meeting (February 8th) we will be treated to something completely different—a demonstration of how to make a video of an artist at work. George Scribner, accomplished artist and animator, will be showing us how.

We will be having two big shows this year: The Spring Salon in May at Citi Bank in Silverlake and the Fall Salon in October at Whites in Montrose. The Spring Salon will be for members only and will allow up to eight pieces to be entered by each artist. This venue is BIG and we are happy to have our members exhibit large bodies of work in a premier exhibition venue. The Fall Salon will be at Whites again and will repeat the high quality of art, food, entertainment, and curation that charmed our overflow crowd last October. It will be open to the art community of Glendale and surrounding areas.

Plans for the La Canada Library show in April and several bank shows in Glendale are in the works. Exact dates to be announced when available.

Looking forward to seeing all of you at the February 8 meeting.
